

COOLIDGE DENIES WILBUR RECALL DUE TO SECRETARY'S UTTERANCES

Cabinet Meets Although Navy Head Still Absent—
Democrats Make Campaign Hay of Recall
Of Department Head.

Washington, Sept. 19.—The cabinet met today with Secretary of the Navy Wilbur still absent, although he has notified President Coolidge that he will reach Washington this evening. Despite the official White House denial that anything except naval problems caused Wilbur to be hastily summoned back to the capital from California, President Coolidge has found it impossible to make an end of rumors that the political situation on the Pacific Coast and Wilbur's public utterances on various subjects led to his recall.

To keep the incident in the limelight, the Democrats have seized upon Wilbur's return as an indication that his presence in California was not pleasing to Republican campaign managers.

Calling attention to the fact that Secretary Wilbur was scheduled to speak in Denver Saturday night and that the speech had been recalled from the newspapers to which it had been issued in advance, Chairman Shaver of the Democratic national committee made public demand that President Coolidge authorize the publication of the speech "to turn on the light."

Shaver also gave currency to reports that formal protests had been made by Japanese naval officials to Wilbur's utterances "referring to two antagonistic racial civilizations."

At the state department today it was said that these Japanese protests, if such had been made, had not reached Washington.

In view of these developments it is apparent that the Wilbur incident, instead of being smoothed over, is

GOVERNMENT CAST ASIDE WHILE RACE BECOMES TIGHTER

President Follows Fight
For American League
Pennant

Washington, Sept. 19.—With the Washington and New York teams running a neck and neck race for the American league pennant, the national capital has swept aside affairs of state and is frankly devoting its choice moments to the national pastime.

Hopes of seeing a world series on the home grounds have aroused the fans. The electric score boards of the newspapers are their principal gathering places when the Griffins are playing away from home, special details of police being required to block off portions of the streets for the baseball mad crowds.

Government officials and employees, including President Coolidge, keep a daily check on the score of the Griffins and the Yankees, exchanging baseball gossip at every opportunity as the most important possible subject of conversation.

The president feels that the Washington team ought to win the pennant because it represents, not only Washington but the whole nation. He has talked to the Griffins individually at the White House and has expressed admiration for the accomplishments of Walter Johnson, Washington star pitcher.

THIRTY COUNTIES TO VOTE FOR LOCAL ROAD IMPROVEMENT

If Levies Are Approved
Four Million Dollars
Will Be Available

Columbus, Sept. 19.—Thirty counties of the state notified the Ohio Good Roads federation at a meeting of its trustees here that they would vote at the November election on levies for local road purposes. The proposed levies are for 1 or 2 mills, extending over a period of three to five years. If all the levies are approved, it is estimated, $4,000,000 will become available annually for local road improvements. The federation is to assist in the campaign for these levies, furnishing data, posters and other material.

The trustees of the federation gave their approval to a tentative state highway program and budget for 1925-6. The program specifies which roads, in the opinion of the state highway department and the Ohio Good Roads federation, which collaborated in its preparation, should be improved within the next two years.

At a series of district conferences to be held within the next few weeks, attended by state highway, divisional and county engineers, county officials, members of the Good Roads federation and others, these programs will be reviewed and the final conclusions will be laid before the general assembly at its next session.

Literary Digest's Poll.
New York, Sept. 19.—First returns in the Literary Digest's poll of 15,000,000 voters show President Coolidge running well in the lead, Senator La Follette second and John W. Davis, Democratic nominee, third. The returns numbered over 25,000 votes from California, Illinois, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Keeper of Franks Slayers.

Joliet prison, in Illinois, is in the keeping of John L. Whitman, warden, who recently received two of the most famous prisoners in American crime annals—Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, sent to jail for life for the murder of Bobby Franks in Chicago.

ALIENISTS TO AID IN PLANS TO SAVE YOUTH FROM DEATH

Witness in Franks Case To Lend Service For Washington Prisoner

Washington, Sept. 19.—Dr. William W. White, noted alienist of St. Elizabeth's hospital, whose testimony at Chicago helped to save Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb from the gallows, will be called upon next month to do a similar service for Edward Randolph Perrygo, 22, who killed a woman here four years ago and who is condemned to be hung November 14.

An appeal from the hanging decision will be taken up by the District of Columbia supreme court in October and a renewed effort will be made to have Perrygo's sentence commuted to life imprisonment on the ground that he was mentally irresponsible. Dr. White was one of the alienists who testified for the defense at Perrygo's first trial and is expected to come forward again in a new effort to save the boy.

Perrygo committed murder to get money for a girl who he intended to marry. The woman was 69 years old. He struck her over the head with an iron bar, took the money and left, without any effort to conceal the crime, or establish an alibi.

"The essential childish nature of this crime," says Dr. White, in his book on "Insanity and the Criminal Law," "is apparent to any one accustomed to an unprejudiced evaluation of human conduct."

SCENARIO TEACHER IS HELD FOR FRAUD

Washington, Sept. 19.—The post-office department has issued a fraud order against the Bristol Photoplay studio and Vernon Hoagland, scenario editor of New York city, prohibiting circulation of their advertisements through the mail. Postoffice inspectors investigated Hoagland's business and found that it consisted of inducing persons who wrote scenarios to send them to the studio, together with a sum of money, in return for which the studio would make possible prompt sale of the manuscripts. They also discovered that during the several years the business had been operating, not a single one of the thousands of plays received has been sold.

Tax Rate Will Be Forty Cents Lower

SMALLER CITY LEVY RESULTS IN RATE SLASH

City Will Operate On Less Income—Osborn Is Next Highest

County Outside Xenia Will Pay Average of 10
Cents Less

A decrease of forty cents a thousand in the tax rate to be paid next year by Xenia taxing district residents and an average of ten cent decrease in other taxing districts, was reported Thursday by the Greene County Budget Commission.

Xenia city taxes will be reduced forty cents through the lowering of the city tax levy from $6.76 to this year, to $6.36 a thousand. Although the forty cent decrease will cut considerable off the city's income from taxation, strict economy makes the cut possible and no city department will suffer from lack of funds, officials say.

The decrease in the city rate will make the total tax rate to be paid by residents of the Xenia taxing district $26.20, or forty cents less than the present rate of $26.60. The tax rate for the fifty-six taxing districts in the county averages ten cents less all over the county.

The biggest tax rate excluding the Xenia city taxing district, is that in Osborn village school district where the new rate will be $22 a thousand. The lowest rate will prevail in Silvercreek school district, New Jasper Township, where the rate will be only $14.50. All school districts in the county will receive approximately the amount asked for with but few exceptions, it is said.

The rates fixed by the County Budget Commission were taken to Columbus Wednesday by R. O. Wead, county auditor, where they were approved by the State Tax Commission. The county budget commission, which is composed of County Treasurer F. A. Jackson, president; County Auditor Wead, secretary and Prosecutor J. K. Williamson gave the rates final approval Thursday.

STAGE FRIGHT KEPT GIRL FROM SUCCESS BEHIND FOOTLIGHTS

Spends $6,000 But Too
Emotional to Carry
Carry Out Part

New York, Sept. 19.—Because her emotions are so strong that she gets stage fright every time she has an opportunity to "try out," Miss Lena Lapidus, member of a wealthy middle-west family was stammered in New York today instead of having her name in big Broadway electric lights.

Miss Lapidus was found asleep in the Broadway tabernacle and taken to the St. Barnabas home. She confessed she was penniless and owed a hotel bill. Now she is waiting to hear from wealthy relatives in Omaha, Nebraska, or her former guardian, Benjamin Simon of Council Bluffs, Iowa, who is in California.

Her father, the late Henry Lapidus, of Cleveland, left her $6,000. Always having had an ambition to go on the stage she left home as soon as she was of age, telling her relatives she was going to visit a brother in Milwaukee, Wis., but instead going to the Isle of Wight in search of an elocution teacher who had once told her she would some day become a great emotional actress.

She failed to find her former teacher and after several adventures with English stage folk, was forced to return to America with only $5 left of her $6,000.

Harry Lapidus, millionaire manufacturer and politician of Omaha, a distant relative, was reported willing to send the girl money.

STEEL CONCERN TO CONFORM TO ORDER

Washington, Sept. 19.—The federal trade commission announced that the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiaries agreed to conform to the commission's order and have abandoned the Pittsburgh plus system of price quotation. In their formal response to the order, the steel companies, however, agree to conform "without admitting the validity of said order or the jurisdiction of the commission to make the same." In reporting their abandonment of the Pittsburgh plus system, the companies undertake not to quote prices on their rolled steel products "upon any other basis point than that where the products are manufactured, or from which they are shipped." They undertake further to conform to the order by "distinctly indicating" on invoices the f. o. b. price and amount of freight charge and sales a delivered price.

Escorted by a delegation of lodge brothers, the body was taken to the Knights of Columbus hall to lie in state until Monday, when services with special masses will be conducted at St. Vincent's church to which the public will be admitted. It was announced.

Interment will be made here.

MINISTER ASKS TRIAL AT ONCE IN MURDER CASE

Denies Guilt Though Held For Grand Jury Without Bail.

Believed He Poisoned Wife
—Also Suspected of Another Slaying

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Sept. 19.—Rev. Lawrence M. Hight, 48, Methodist minister of Ina, 12 miles from here, waived preliminary hearing when arranged today before Justice of the Peace T. Moore, on a charge of first degree murder, in connection with the death of his wife, Anna, 44, demanded an immediate trial and was ordered held without bail for action by the October grand jury.

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Sept. 19.—A network of circumstantial evidence, which police say, tends to indicate Rev. Lawrence M. Hight, pastor of the Ina Methodist Episcopal Church, was being woven here today about the death of the pastor's wife, Anna.

And while the investigation of this was being pushed, another probe into the death of William Sweetser, with whose widow the name of the pastor has been linked, was under way.

A positive statement that Mrs. Hight died from arsenic poisoning and not from ptomaine as had been believed, was in the hands of the coroner today. Another report on the Sweetser case was expected by afternoon from the coroner's chemist to whom the exhumed vital organs of the man were sent yesterday.

Dr. William McNally who analyzed the vital organs of Mrs. Hight, was decided in his opinion as to the cause of death.

"There were large amounts of arsenic in the liver, kidneys and stomach," his statement reads.

"There was no doubt in my mind that the woman's death was caused by the poison."

Coupled with this report today came word from police that a box which had contained arsenic, had been found in the pastor's home and that employees in the restaurant where he had bought the canned meat which he claimed caused his wife's fatal illness, denied having made such a sale to him.

Sweetser died five weeks ago and then hardening of the arteries was given as the cause of death.

Some action by the Methodist Episcopal conference which meets at Carbondale Tuesday, also is expected.

Rev. Hight already has made a statement denying guilt in connection with his wife's death to the ministers of the district.

"I am not guilty of my wife's death," he declared. "I had nothing to do with it. It is bad enough to lose her, to have my home broken up and my children separated from me. I am not guilty of any wrongdoing."

SIGNALS WERE NOT FROM MARS IS SAID

Paris, Sept. 19.—Abbe Moreau, famous astronomer of the observatory at Bourges, says the mysterious signals which are reported as having been picked up at Ottawa and other places when Mars was close to the earth, did not come from the planet, but from the sun. Abbe Moreau recalls that several years ago, at the time of the last conjunction of Mars and earth, similar signals were observed. Astronomers all over the world took up the matter and solved the enigma. But their conclusions were never published. The French observer says the mysterious waves are what are known as "parasitic waves," which break in often on wireless receivers and are caused by electric phenomena in the atmosphere. It was remarked that these "parasitic waves" always came from continents or high mountains. In other words, they were not signals, but merely a terrestrial effect of the sun's rays.

COMMITTEE TO PROBE INCOME RETURNS SOON

partment Also To Be

Mellon Tells Committee All
Data Will Be Furnished.

Washington, Sept. 19.—With Secretary of the Treasury Mellon present, hearings of the senate investigation of the internal revenue bureau got under way here.

The first act of the committee was to adopt a resolution empowering its counsel and agents to requisition or copy such income tax returns as the committee desires to examine.

Senator King of Utah served notice that a similar resolution empowering agents of the committee to delve into the prohibition bureau would be adopted later. Mellon assented to this.

Senator Couzens of Michigan, chairman of the committee, was authorized to appoint a force of examiners, engineers and agents, to go through the files of the income tax and prohibition units of the internal revenue bureau in search of information desired.

Public hearings will begin as soon as Secretary Mellon replies to a questionnaire submitted by the committee concerning surtaxes and its agents gather the data they will be instructed to find. Chairman Couzens estimated that from five to six weeks probably would be required for these preliminaries, but said the hearings would begin before the elections should the information required by the committee be available.

Secretary Mellon told the committee he had directed that any data in his department called for be furnished the committee, including income tax reports, and that such agents as it might appoint be given unobstructed access to all departmental papers. The information called for in the questionnaire handed Secretary Mellon, Senator Couzens explained, would give the committee full knowledge concerning surtaxes and enable congress to determine for itself the soundness of Secretary Mellon's recommendations for a reduction of taxes upon large incomes.

The force of examiners, engineers and agents Couzens was authorized to appoint is expected to look into all charges of fraud and maladministration, gather from the prohibition unit complete data concerning employees, including those who have been dismissed, investigating the system used in granting permits for release of alcoholic liquors, and study the records of hearings before the prohibition bureau on the cancellation and issuance of liquor permits.

The questionnaire calls upon Secretary Mellon to furnish names and addresses of each taxpayer reporting net incomes exceeding $300,000, for 1918; the returns for 1920 of those who reported personal net incomes exceeding $300,000 for 1916; returns showing personal net incomes between $180,000 and $300,000 for 1916; returns from 1920 of those who reported personal net incomes between $150,000 and $300,000 in 1916; returns showing the personal incomes between $100,000 and $150,000 in 1916; returns for 1920 of those who reported net incomes between $100,000 and $150,000 for 1916, and returns for 1917 to 1923, inclusive of individuals who reported personal net incomes exceeding $100,000 in 1916.

CROWE OPPOSED TO PARDON OF GRANT

Chicago, Sept. 19.—State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe and Attorney Clarence Darrow will come to grips again next month, this time over the life of a penniless youth. Now that Darrow has promised to appear personally before the board of pardons in behalf of Bernard Grant, sentenced to hang Oct. 17 for the murder of a policeman, Crowe has started to prepare his fight against pardon or commutation of sentence. If he does not appear in person against Darrow, he will direct the maneuvers of one of his assistants. "So far a petition has not been placed before the governor in behalf of Grant," Crowe said. "We shall oppose overturning of the sentence. Grant was found guilty of murder and the jury directed the death penalty. His age has nothing to do with it."

When Darrow appears before the board he will have the weight of some 2,000,000 names behind him, Attorney Thomas E. Swanson, acting for Grant, stated.

Robbery May Unravel Murders.

Police in New York believe they have accidentally stumbled onto a clue in the mysterious murders of Dorothy King and Louise Lawson, both found mysteriously slain, when Mae Bobe, a modiste, reported she had been robbed of jewelry valued at more than $50,000. The holdup gang, familiar with their victim's belongings, are believed to be the same that attacked and slew Miss King and Miss Lawson.

LEGION WANTS FORBES TRIAL HELD AT ONCE

Resolution To That Effect
Adopted at National Meeting

Omaha, Neb., Gets 1925
Convention—To Elect
Commander

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 19.—James Drain, Washington, D. C., was elected national commander of the American Legion at today's session, over John R. McQuigg, Ohio and five other candidates.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 19.—Immediate trial of Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former head of the veterans' bureau, is demanded in a resolution adopted by the American Legion national convention.

The military affairs committee recommended perpetuation of national defense day and urged that regular army private's pay be increased to $30 a month and that provision be made for voluntary retirement after 25 years of honorable service.

The convention urged congress and the navy department to bring the United States navy sea power up to the terms of the 5-5-3 ratio of the naval armament agreement. "It is a well known fact," said the naval affairs committee report, "that the ratio is now 5-4-3, with the United States occupying the position of four."

New York cast its entire 74 votes to Nebraska, giving Omaha the 1925 national convention and while the Nebraska delegation denied any trading, it was general talk that the corn hyskers would come to the aid of New York in the fight for Edward E. Spafford for national commander of the legion.

There still are seven "leading" candidates and a host of favorite sons for commander. Several delegations were split and unable to agree on a voting plan past the three ballots, when favorite sons will be given a run.

Major General James G. Harbord was trotted out in an effort to get an agreement. The contingent which failed to interest John J. Pershing was casting about for some one else of high army standing. Meantime the fight seemed centered around General J. R. McQuigg of Cleveland, Edward E. Spafford of New York and James A. Drain of the District of Columbia.

Posed as Inspector.

Detroit, Sept. 19.—Authorities are searching for a man in connection with the disappearance of a package containing $10,000 in currency from a registered mail pouch at Mt. Clemens last Friday. Burley Parsons, agent at the Grand Trunk railway station in Mt. Clemens, told postal inspectors that a stranger, representing himself to be an inspector and presenting credentials, obtained access to the pouch shortly after it was delivered at the station.

TWO ARMIES IN JOINT ATTACK EXPECT TO WIN

Chekiang Forces Make
Last Effort to Repel
Invaders

Nansiang Is Bombed From Planes—Officials In Flight

Shanghai, Sept. 19.—Intense artillery fire was plainly audible in Shanghai today from the Lihuo-Huangtu sector, and it was believed that Tuchen (military governor) Lu Hung Siang, of Chekiang, was making a last desperate effort to hold back the advancing Kiangsu army.

Reports from Lihuo declared four Kiangsu warships have been bombarding that city, which was reported to be in flames today.

Airplanes attached to the Afansu forces have dropped bombs on Nansiang. There was a tense atmosphere in Shanghai today as it was believed that the final rout of the Chekiang armies is imminent. There have been no further reports of mutinies in the Chekiang armies since the third army revolted joined the army of Sun Cuan Fang, commander of the Fukien troops that have allied themselves with the Kiangsu troops and marched on Hangchow, capital of the Chekiang province.

The chief of the Chinese police here and the city magistrates were reported today to be in flight.

Thousands of Chinese refugees are entering the foreign settlements here from Chinese territory.

Machine guns have been posted at all the entrances to the foreign settlement, barbed wire entanglements strengthened and foreign civilians have joined the naval guard to protect the settlement should the Kiangsu troops take the city.

Shanghai, Sept. 19.—The Chinese army defending Shanghai suffered a severe reverse in its latest engagement with Chi Li troops.

General Chi Hsieh Yuan launched an irresistible attack after artillery preparation and the defenders' lines crumbled.

A mob of retreating soldiers and civilians bore back upon Shanghai and it was feared they would overrun the thin line of foreign settlement guards. More than 1,000 international marines and sailors were ordered to the gates and barriers of the settlement.

The victorious Chi Li troops headed a drive for the Woosung forts nearest the sector guarded by American marines. Three American destroyers, their guns trained on the forts, were stripped for action and standing by.

Conditions in the foreign settlements are extremely precarious. More than a million refugees already have sought shelter behind the barricades where the marines with machine guns and armored cars stand ready to put down any concerted attempt of Chinese to rush the barrier.

Lu Yung Hsiang's ally, General Pei Ko Kan, surrendered with all his troops to the Fokien commander, Sun Chuen Fang. The civil governor, Hang Chow, proclaimed his independence of Lu and fled to Shanghai.

The only Chekiang forces still holding out are on the Lihuo Wangdo front, not far from the city, and they were expected to surrender immediately.

FEW BUY AT HOME JUST FOR LOYALTY REPORT INDICATED

The Slogan, "Boost Your Home Town," apparently has few adherents when dollars and cents are concerned. So an investigator from the department of sociology at the Ohio State University found by spending three months in a typically rural county in Ohio to get material for a recently published bulletin on town-country relationships.

Farmers and villagers may be economically interdependent, says this investigator, Perry D. Denune, instructor in sociology at the State University, but few of them conduct their business that way. "Friendship is all right in its place, but business is business," seems to be the slogan.

"Only three farmers during whole study," the sociologist reports, "said they did buying locally because of loyalty. They gave at least six reasons for buying groceries from their local community store: Personal whims, kinship with the grocers, friendship, convenience, credit, and price. Similarly, 75 per cent of all the farmers interviewed and many of the townspeople went outside of the county for a part of their clothing."

"The small-town merchants neither co-operate among themselves nor with the farmer. Sympathy is often expressed concerning the farmer's economic hardships, but no effort is made to help him. The farmers likewise speak of 'their' town, associate with the merchants on various occasions, but go to other towns or send to mail order houses for many of their necessities."

"The only tendency away from this individualistic attitude," Mr. Denune reports, "is seen in the development of certain co-operative enterprises among the farmers."

B. P. W. CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING THURSDAY

The Business and Professional Women's Club held its first meeting of the club year at the K. of P. Hall Thursday evening. About eighty-five members were seated for the dinner which preceded the program of the evening. Baskets of bright hued zinnias and other autumn flowers and vari-colored candles in crystal candlesticks decorated the long tables.

The chief feature of the program was a report of the national convention of Business and Professional Women's Clubs held last July in West Baden, Ind., given by Miss Edna Bloom who attended the convention as a delegate from the local club. The report, which was of an informal nature was entertaining and interesting throughout and was filled with the enthusiasm and inspiration which had been the outstanding features of the big convention. Miss Faye Cavanaugh also attended the convention, spoke briefly giving some of the high lights of the meeting. Delegations from practically every state in the union were present and the convention was of unusual interest and pleasure. The next national convention will be held in Portland, Me.

Vocal solos by Miss Harriet McCarty and Miss Leona Kjer with accompaniment by Miss Juanita Rankin were enjoyable features of the program.

The new club president, Miss Faye Ledbetter, announced the list of the standing committees for the coming year and they were ratified by the club. The chairmen of the various committees are as follows: Program, Miss Julia Wolf; Membership, Miss Ella Ambuhl; Finance, Miss Henryetta Logan; Community, Miss Edith Fawcett; Publicity, Miss Nellie McKay; Education, Miss Lorena Paulin; Legislation, Miss Martha Anderson. Miss Emma Tresise was appointed parliamentarian.

The club has founded a scholarship fund for the education of girls for business or professional work, the fund to be available for local girls.

An invitation has been extended to local club members to be present at a meeting of the executive board of state Federation which will be held in Columbus, October 11 and 12 when Judge Florence Allen will be the speaker.

DONAHEY DENIES DAVIS CHARGES

Columbus, Sept. 19.—Governor Donahey denied former Governor Davis' charge, made in a speech here that Donahey had accepted "valuable gifts" from contractors doing business with the state. "Harry L. Davis by plain lying is attempting to draw my administration down to the sordid level of his own," Donahey said, in a statement. "The only way he expects to win is by deceiving the people. I challenge him to name one gift and say from whom I received it."

Davis also charged that reasons other than those advanced by Governor Donahey actuated him in his recent announcement of intention not to go before the public in this campaign.

EUROPE IS WORKING OUT OWN SOLUTION

Boston, Sept. 12.—Colonel Edward M. House, who has returned from Europe, reviewed conditions on the other side in a statement issued here. He said:

"Under the guidance of Great Britain and France, Europe is confidently working out her own solution of her difficulties without waiting for the leadership of the United States. In 1919 the desire for peace was at flood tide. But that tide ebbed while Europe waited on the leadership of America. In its wake came the fears and strife, the international bickering and fruitless negotiations, which through four years made settlement impossible. Politics more than public opinion had its day during these four years. Now public opinion has become articulate again. There is no waiting now for the leadership of the United States. If the problems of Europe are to be solved it is plain enough to Europeans that they must do their own solving. Ramsay MacDonald in England and Edouard Herriot in France afford the best evidence of European self-confidence. Both of these men came into power to do one thing—to bring settlement. They were given office that conciliation might have a chance. And conciliation is working."

The fourth convicted youth, George Gross, paid the supreme penalty on June 23, when he escaped from the jail here and was shot by detectives.

The three youths just sentenced are all minors of about the same age as Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold of Chicago, murderers of Robert Franks.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS AT DES MOINES, IA

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 12.—John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for president, pledged in an address here further tax reduction and a downward revision of existing tariff duties in a manner to avoid jeopardizing the stability and sense of security that are essential to the transaction of business. He assailed the existing tariff law and attacked President Coolidge for what he described as coolly claiming credit for the tax relief given by the last congress, a bill which, he asserted, the administration opposed at every step of the way through congress. Davis declared for economy in government, national and state. He took exception to the claim of the Republican administration on the subject of tax and public debt reductions. He presented figures to show that the Democratic administration had reduced taxes more than $2,000,000,000 after the war, and that it had cut the public debt at a rate of $140,000,000 a month against the $87,500,000 under the present administration.

MODISH MITZI—Mitzi Turns the Search Light Upon Fashions By Jay V. Jay

It's a terrible crash. Utter stillness, except for a stealthy tread * * a very stealthy tread; Mitzi and Polly are alarmed. Shall they telephone the police * * or the fire department, or for an ambulance? While they are deciding they may admire their costumes. Polly wears printed silk coolie pajamas. The little band at the ankles gathers in the fullness. Mitzi wears a night-gown of lace and tucks and georgette very charmingly combined. It has a bodice effect.

It was the Goofer. He lost his equilibrium but not his pie. Aunt Sophia is trying to tell him that she doesn't see how he made so much noise just eating. And the poor Goofer is blandly waving aside apologies for both his crash and his appetite. As the light moves we can see Aunt Sophia in her quilted robe. Mitzi wears a silk slip and the week-end guest has a new version of pajamas that are much the same as Polly's. The Goofer won't go foraging again in a hurry; not without handling the searchlight himself.

EXAMINATION GIVEN OWNERS OF BUSESSES

Thirty-nine bus owners and drivers in Greene County whose busses, driven for hire, do not come under the public utilities commission ruling, took a chauffeur's examination conducted by one of the deputies from the state department at Columbus, Thursday in the Assembly Room in the basement of the Court House.

About fifteen more drivers who were on hand to take the examination, had to be turned away due to an insufficient number of blanks.

Another examination will be held within a week or ten days at the Court House in the evening in order to care for a number of bus drivers who were unable to take the first examination.

The Thursday examination was conducted by the Greene County Automobile Club.

COOLIDGE FAVORS AIR DEVELOPMENT

President Coolidge believes the round-the-world flight has demonstrated the ability of the airplane of the future to carry warfare into the air. He is convinced the battleship is waning as an instrument of national defense.

The attitude of the President was made public following the airing of the controversy between the Navy Department and the Budget Bureau over the navy's estimates for the next fiscal year.

The Budget Bureau has turned down items in the navy's requests for funds totaling approximately $50,000,000 but by and large the estimate that will be recommended by Director Lord of the budget, will conform closely to the naval expenditures of the current fiscal year.

With no intention of endeavoring to settle the controversy between the battleship advocates of the navy and the air service of the army, begun when the first bombing tests were held off the Virginia Capes in 1921, Mr. Coolidge is convinced that the future American defense policy depends upon the manner in which this problem is finally solved.

He is willing to leave the question largely to experts. What he is most interested in now is preserving the integrity of the budget and bringing about the reasonable reductions in Government expenditures he has promised.

Propaganda to the effect that the American Navy is now far below the 5-5-3 ratio and is rapidly deteriorating has failed to impress the President. In considering additional expenditures he is included to examine the manner in which naval funds are spent in order to determine whether they are being used soundly and efficiently.

Six or eight battleships of the existing fleet probably will have to be replaced upon the expiration of the limitations treaty in 1932. The question of using Government funds virtually to rebuild these ships now is one for careful consideration, Mr. Coolidge holds.

If aircraft eventually supplants the battleship, it seems to the President that the funds should be expended for airships and air development rather than on the big-gun vessels.

With the return of Secretary Wilbur, the navy's case will be given full consideration by the Budget Bureau and the President. In the meantime, there is a distinct disposition to discount the reports that the navy is falling to pieces or will fall to pieces if the sums naval officers have asked for are not forthcoming.

JAPAN "DISINTERESTED" OF COURSE

Business is picking up on the Japanese South Manchurian Railway. Whether the rest of the world is particularly interested or not, Tokio admits the fact. The improvement is due to the demand by Chang, the war lord of Manchuria, for transportation facilities. He has engaged passage toward Peking for his 100,000 soliders and their impedimenta of guns and other equipment, for he is about to take part in China's civil war. Naturally, the Japanese could not afford this opportunity to turn so pretty a penny. But that is all there is to it, according to Tokio. The rest of the world is pretty well aware that Chang has long been playing Japan's game and that Japan fully expects to reap some sort of political advantage from the present Chinese ruckus. But, of course, no one would suspect Japan of allowing such considerations to influence her policy. Business should come before pleasure, and therefore it is authoritatively stated that the Tokio Government views the troop movements simply as "a matter of railway business."

AND XENIA IS ONLY 15 MILES FROM DAYTON

Dayton, which will never lose her glory as the native city of the Wright brothers, is passing the hat to collect $7500 for our world fliers. It appears that the birdmen, somewhere in the empyrean, lost their receipts for hotel bills and that without these Uncle Sam declines to defray their expenses. If this Government, after such an exploit, is going to be so small and mean as to prefer its red tape to the discharge of its clear obligation and if it intends to let a little Ohio city pay the bill it should defray, that skimping parsimony will make an unpleasant impression in each of the lands over which the aviators passed. There is no reason why they should incur all the hardships and perils of the flight and defray the cost in addition, for certainly the result is greatly to the gain of all future aerial maneuvers wherein this country is concerned, either in peace times or in warfare.

WHAT A MAN LIKES

This is what a man likes: a blue sky and a stream,
The lily pads off yonder and the shore with gold algae;
The west wind gently blowing, for then the fishing's sure,
A friend to share the glory and a bass to take the lure.

This is what a man likes; a day away from things,
A day where dreams are golden and malice never stings,
A friend to read his heart to, who'll keep the tale secure,
A reel that's running freely and a bass to take the lure.

This is what a man likes: a chance to test his skill,
The hazard of disaster and a struggle's surging thrill;
The joy of honest hunger and hardships to endure,
The gulls to fly above him and a bass to take the lure.

This is what a man likes; a friend to share his boat,
The freedom of the open, an old and shabby coat;
For all the aches of failure, 'tis here he finds a cure—
A haunt God made for fishing, and a bass to take the lure.

To Vote on Extra Tax Levy.

OHIO FARMERS LOSE MILLIONS ON CROPS

Columbus, Sept. 18.—Corn, wheat, oats and hay, Ohio's principal farm crops, will be $15,781,000 less in value this year than in 1923, according to a statement issued by Charles V. Truax, state director of agriculture, and C. J. West, state-federal crop reporter. In 1923 these four crops were valued at $247,576,000, but this year the figure will be $231,795,000, according to the joint statement. The crops are estimated on the basis of a unit price for each during the month of August. Production of corn this year was estimated at 90,500,000 bushels, at $1.11 a unit, with a value of $100,455,000; of wheat, 37,000,000 bushels, at $1.22 a unit, with a value of $45,140,000; of oats, 58,000,000 bushels, at 50 cents a unit, with a value of $29,000,000, and of hay, 4,400,000 tons, at $13 a unit, with a value of $57,200,000.

HAD BAD LEG

"I was afflicted with a very severe sore on my leg for years. I am a teamster. I tried all medicines and salves, but without success. I tried doctors, but they failed to cure me. I couldn't sleep for many nights from pain. Doctors said I could not live for more than two years. Finally Peterson's Ointment was recommended to me and by its use the sore was entirely healed." Thankfully yours, William Haase, West Park, Ohio. 35 cents a box.

every conceivable nature.

The dance which is to be given at the K. of P. hall this evening by the Nougat Club will begin at 8 o'clock. This will probably be the last dance of the season.

An ordinance was passed yesterday by the city council establishing a street railway route in this city. The ordinance granted Charles Hough, contractor, the right to operate a street railway over the route.

Today's Talks

THE UNNOTICED THINGS

You can no more avoid the world's contact with your influence than you can corral the air about you and keep it for yourself alone.

Science has shown that the pebble dropped in the ocean mingles out from land in time effects its way to the shore.

The idle word dropped in a commonplace conversation may drive that influence of yours far into the years of many yet unborn.

We never know where the little unnoticed things of our lives are going to turn up or have their bearing upon something distantly related.

I was once told of a man who traveled far in order that he might engage the services of a noted writer and speaker. He found him with a group of men in a well known club telling stories that were unworthy of him. The gentleman desiring the services of this noted man left without even approaching him.

tion of great news organizations, a President of the United States was about to deliver an important address. Reporters from all over the country were in the city to get this address. There was one reporter among the many inexperienced who showed such a marked attitude of courtesy and enterprise that he immediately attracted the attention of the President. He was called over and, after a brief conversation, the President slipped the entire speech into his pocket. Thus the young reporter was enabled to give his paper a distinct "beat" over the others of the country.

The unnoticed things are usually noticed. If you play your game well and with the perfecting of your moves up, permost in mind, those who may be watching you alone from the sidelines, may have something bigger and more worthy for you to do just a little later on.

Why do you eat Bran?

TO FIGHT CONSTIPATION—the most dangerous condition your system can become chained to—to get free from bleary biliousness, dull headaches, nausea—etc., etc.!!!

Rid yourself of this dangerous condition—or start "slipping" and become a prey to any one of the most dreaded human ailments which have their beginning with constipation and toxic poisoning!

Fight constipation as you would fight fire! Fight it with bran—Kellogg's—BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN! Don't temporize! Don't waste time and health by going half-way! You need ALL BRAN; you need the bulk, the "roughage" of ALL BRAN, because it sweeps, cleanses and purifies!

REALIZE THIS—foods with a part bran content can only relieve constipation in proportion to the amount of bran they contain! If they are 25 or 50 per cent bran—you may get 25 or 50 per cent relief!

REMEMBER THIS—Kellogg's is ALL BRAN and is guaranteed to give you positive and permanent relief if you will eat two table-spoonfuls daily, or as much with each meal in chronic cases!

Don't delay; don't fuss with half-way measures! You have too much at stake! All grocers sell—

Kellogg's the original BRAN—ready to eat

Local delegates will probably leave for Canton either Sunday afternoon or Monday morning by train or motor.

SAY NITA NALDI TO WED CLEVELANDER

Cleveland, O., Sept. 19.—Dispatches from New York that Nita Naldi, screen actress now crossing the Atlantic to Europe, was to be married to Giacomo Sanges, "famous duellist, traveler and president of the Cleveland Trust Company," had Cleveland guessing today.

The Trust Company offices said no one by that name was included in its personnel. Nor does any such name appear in the telephone books or city directory.

The dispatches quoted Frank Naldi, the actress' brother, as having said that Sanges was also a passenger on the liner taking Miss Naldi eastward. According to these stories the impetuous Sanges won Miss Naldi with a barrage of telegraphic proposals last week, after seven years of courtship.

MYSTERY COVERS DEATH OF GIRL

Taunton, Mass., Sept. 19.—Walter Carrie Bragon, 25, pretty bobbed haired owner of the Rainbow Inn, of East Blackstone, leaped or was hurled to her death from a speeding taxicab, was the question police sought to answer today in their examination of Ernest Belanger, said to have been the girl's companion.

Belanger was arrested in the woods near where the girl's body was found. After questioning he was arraigned and held in $1,000 bond for hearing September 22, after pleading guilty to charges of drunkenness but not guilty on a charge of assault.

The candidate gave his talk following the usual Thursday night band concert.

COOLIDGE FAVORS AIR DEVELOPMENT

President Coolidge believes the round-the-world flight has demonstrated the ability of the airplane of the future to carry warfare into the air. He is convinced the battleship is waning as an instrument of national defense.

The attitude of the President was made public following the airing of the controversy between the Navy Department and the Budget Bureau over the navy's estimates for the next fiscal year.

The Budget Bureau has turned down items in the navy's requests for funds totaling approximately $50,000,000 but by and large the estimate that will be recommended by Director Lord of the budget, will conform closely to the naval expenditures of the current fiscal year.

With no intention of endeavoring to settle the controversy between the battleship advocates of the navy and the air service of the army, begun when the first bombing tests were held off the Virginia Capes in 1921, Mr. Coolidge is convinced that the future American defense policy depends upon the manner in which this problem is finally solved.

He is willing to leave the question largely to experts. What he is most interested in now is preserving the integrity of the budget and bringing about the reasonable reductions in Government expenditures he has promised.

Propaganda to the effect that the American Navy is now far below the 5-5-3 ratio and is rapidly deteriorating has failed to impress the President. In considering additional expenditures he is included to examine the manner in which naval funds are spent in order to determine whether they are being used soundly and efficiently.

Six or eight battleships of the existing fleet probably will have to be replaced upon the expiration of the limitations treaty in 1932. The question of using Government funds virtually to rebuild these ships now is one for careful consideration, Mr. Coolidge holds.

If aircraft eventually supplants the battleship, it seems to the President that the funds should be expended for airships and air development rather than on the big-gun vessels.

With the return of Secretary Wilbur, the navy's case will be given full consideration by the Budget Bureau and the President. In the meantime, there is a distinct disposition to discount the reports that the navy is falling to pieces or will fall to pieces if the sums naval officers have asked for are not forthcoming.

JAPAN "DISINTERESTED" OF COURSE

Business is picking up on the Japanese South Manchurian Railway. Whether the rest of the world is particularly interested or not, Tokio admits the fact. The improvement is due to the demand by Chang, the war lord of Manchuria, for transportation facilities. He has engaged passage toward Peking for his 100,000 soldiers and their impedimenta of guns and other equipment, for he is about to take part in China's civil war. Naturally, the Japanese could not afford this opportunity to turn so pretty a penny. But that is all there is to it, according to Tokio. The rest of the world is pretty well aware that Chang has long been playing Japan's game and that Japan fully expects to reap some sort of political advantage from the present Chinese ruckus. But, of course, no one would suspect Japan of allowing such considerations to influence her policy. Business should come before pleasure, and therefore it is authoritatively stated that the Tokio Government views the troop movements simply as "a matter of railway business."

AND XENIA IS ONLY 15 MILES FROM DAYTON

Dayton, which will never lose her glory as the native city of the Wright brothers, is passing the hat to collect $7500 for our world fliers. It appears that the birdmen, somewhere in the empyrean, lost their receipts for hotel bills and that without these Uncle Sam declines to defray their expenses. If this Government, after such an exploit, is going to be so small and mean as to prefer its red tape to the discharge of its clear obligation and if it intends to let a little Ohio city pay the bill it should defray, that skimping parsimony will make an unpleasant impression in each of the lands over which the aviators passed. There is no reason why they should incur all the hardships and perils of the flight and defray the cost in addition, for certainly the result is greatly to the gain of all future aerial maneuvers wherein this country is concerned, either in peace times or in warfare.

JUST FOLKS

WHAT A MAN LIKES

This is what a man likes: a blue sky and a stream,
The lily pads off yonder and the shore with gold algae;
The west wind gently blowing, for then the fishing's sure,
A friend to share the glory and a bass to take the lure.

This is what a man likes; a day away from things,
A day where dreams are golden and malice never stings.
A friend to read his heart to, who'll keep the tale secure,
A reel that's running freely and a bass to take the lure.

This is what a man likes: a chance to test his skill,
The hazard of disaster and a struggle's stirring thrill;
The joy of honest hunger and hardships to endure,
The gulls to fly above him and a bass to take the lure.

This is what a man likes; a friend to share his boat,
The freedom of the open, an old and shabby coat;
For all the aches of failure, 'tis here he finds a cure—
A haunt God made for fishing and a bass to take the lure.

To Vote on Extra Tax Levy.
Hamilton, O., Sept. 19.—The people of Hamilton will be asked at the November election to vote an extra tax levy of 2.18 mills for funding public schools. This amount will be necessary, according to the board of education, to finance the full term.

OHIO FARMERS LOSE MILLIONS ON CROPS

Columbus, Sept. 18.—Corn, wheat, oats and hay, Ohio's principal farm crops, will be $15,781,000 less in value this year than in 1923, according to a statement issued by Charles V. Truax, state director of agriculture, and C. J. West, state-federal crop reporter. In 1923 these four crops were valued at $247,576,000, but this year the figure will be $231,795,000, according to the joint statement. The crops are estimated on the basis of a unit price for each during the month of August. Production of corn this year was estimated at 80,500,000 bushels, at $1.11 a unit, with a value of $100,455,000; of wheat, 37,000,000 bushels, at $1.22 a unit, with a value of $45,140,000; of oats, 58,000,000 bushels, at 50 cents a unit, with a value of $29,000,000, and of hay, 4,400,000 tons, at $13 a unit, with a value of $57,200,000.

HAD BAD LEG

"I was afflicted with a very severe sore on my leg for years. I am a teamster. I tried all medicines and salves, but without success. I tried doctors, but they failed to cure me. I couldn't sleep for many nights from pain. Doctors said I could not live for more than two years. Finally Peterson's Ointment was recommended to me and by its use the sore was entirely healed." Thankfully yours, William Haase, West Park, Ohio. 25 cents a box.

1904-Twenty Years Ago-1924

The High School football squad has been hard at work on the gridiron every night for the past two weeks in preparation for their first game, October 1, with London. The team will be composed largely of new men and it averages about 145 pounds.

This year's date for the Xenia Salvation Army's Harvest Festival is set for October 1 to 4, inclusive, during which period the Army will gladly accept gifts of every conceivable nature.

The dance which is to be given at the K. of P. hall this evening by the Nougat Club will begin at 8 o'clock. This will probably be the last dance of the season.

An ordinance was passed yesterday by the city council establishing a street railway route in this city. The ordinance granted Charles Hough, contractor, the right to operate a street railway over the route.

Today's Talks

THE UNNOTICED THINGS

You can no more avoid the world's contact with your influence than you can corral the air about you and keep it for yourself alone.

Science has shown that the pebble dropped in the ocean miles out from land in time effects its way to the shore.

The idle word dropped in a commonplace conversation may drive that influence of yours far into the years of many yet unborn.

We never know where the little unnoticed things of our lives are going to turn up or have their bearing upon something distantly related.

I was once told of a man who traveled far in order that he might engage the services of a noted writer and speaker. He found him with a group of men in a well known club telling stories that were unworthy of him. The gentleman desiring the services of this noted man left without even approaching him.

tion of great news organizations, a President of the United States was about to deliver an important address. Reporters from all over the country were in the city to get this address. There was one reporter among the many inexperienced who showed such a marked attitude of courtesy and enterprise that he immediately attracted the attention of the President. He was called over and, after a brief conversation, the President slipped the entire speech into his pocket. Thus the young reporter was enabled to give his paper a distinct "beat" over the others of the country.

The unnoticed things are usually noticed.

If you play your game well and with the perfecting of your moves up, permost in mind, those who may be watching you alone from the sidelines, may have something bigger and more worthy for you to do just a little later on.

Why do you eat Bran?

TO FIGHT CONSTIPATION—the most dangerous condition your system can become chained to—to get free from bleary biliousness, dull headaches, nausea—etc., etc.!!!

Rid yourself of this dangerous condition—or start "slipping" and become a prey to any one of the most dreaded human ailments which have their beginning with constipation and toxic poisoning!

Fight constipation as you would fight fire! Fight it with Bran—Kellogg's—BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN! Don't temporize! Don't waste time and health by going half-way! You need ALL BRAN; you need the bulk, the "roughage" of ALL BRAN, because it sweeps, cleanses and purifies!

REALIZE THIS—foods with a part bran content can only relieve constipation in proportion to the amount of bran they contain! If they are 25 or 50 per cent bran—you may get 25 or 50 per cent relief!

REMEMBER THIS—Kellogg's is ALL BRAN and is guaranteed to give you positive and permanent relief if you will eat two table-spoonfuls daily, or as much with each meal in chronic cases!

Don't delay; don't fuss with half-way measures! You have too much at stake! All grocers sell—

SAY NITA NALDI TO WED CLEVELANDER

Cleveland, O., Sept. 13.—Dispatches from New York that Nita Naldi, screen actress now crossing the Atlantic to Europe, was to be married to Giacomo Sanges, "famous duellist, traveler and president of the Cleveland Trust Company," had Cleveland guessing today.

The Trust Company officials said no one by that name was included in its personnel. Nor does any such name appear in the telephone books or city directory.

The dispatches quoted Frank Naldi, the actress' brother, as having said that Sanges was also a passenger on the liner taking Miss Naldi eastward. According to these stories the petuous Sanges won Miss Naldi with a barrage of telegraphic proposals last week, after seven years of courtship.

MYSTERY COVERS DEATH OF GIRL

Taunton, Mass., Sept. 13.—Walter Carrie Bragon, 25, pretty bobbed haired owner of the Rainbow Inn, at East Blackstone, leaped or was hurled to her death from a speeding taxicab, was the question police sought to answer today in their examination of Ernest Belanger, said to have been the girl's companion.

Belanger was arrested in the woods near where the girl's body was found. After questioning he was arraigned and held in $1,000 bond for hearing September 22, after pleading guilty to charges of drunkenness but not guilty on a charge of assault.

RECORDS SHOW 178 AIRMEN ENTERED IN OCTOBER AIR RACES

One hundred and seventy-eight entries have been filed for the International Air Races to be held at Wilbur Wright Field October 2, 3 and 4, according to officials of the races. The "dead line" for the filing of entrance blanks was September 15.

There are but three entries in the Pulitzer High-Speed Race, all representing the army. However it is thought probably that another army plane may enter the competition during the next week or ten days. In order to make such an entry, it will be necessary to gain the consent of the airmen now lined up for the event. Lieutenant Alexander Pearson, who was killed recently when the wings of his plane collapsed while he was making a speed test flight over McCook Field, was to have been the fourth entry from the army. The three army entries are: Captain Burt Skeel, Selfridge Field; Lieutenant H. S. Mills, Wilbur Wright Field, Fairfield and Lieutenant W. H. Brookley, McCook Field, Dayton.

The "On-to-Dayton" Race, which starts Saturday and ends Oct. 1, has fifty-three entries. H. E. Patterson, of Venice, Cal., who will fly a ship, entered by Reginald Palmer, of Los Angeles, and George W. Haldeman, of Lakeland, Fla., will make the greatest distance. The other planes are entered from virtually every section of the country.

DAYTON TO RAISE FUND FOR FLYERS

Dayton, September 19—Although official notice was received from the war department Thursday that the government intends to reimburse the members of the round the world

WE ASK MEN

To protect their hair
By Edna Wallace Hopper
I speak for all women when I say that we want men to keep their looks. And above all, their hair. The women do that. You would never forgive us if we did not. We beg you to follow our example.

My whole career on the stage has depended largely on my hair. So many years ago I went to France and secured the best hair help she knew. And I have kept up with every new discovery.

The result is my hair as you see it. It is thick and lustrous, finer far than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, and never a like results.

I am offering to women the best I have found, and men are also welcome. My Hair Youth combines the utmost that modern science knows. I am sure that no one knows anything for the hair which does what combination does.

I apply it with an eye-dropper directly to the scalp. Applying tonics to the hair is ridiculous. The whole thing lies in the scalp, in the roots, and there my Hair Youth goes.

It combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. It tones and stimulates the scalp. Hair thrives on such a soil as flowers thrive by like methods.

I believe that my Hair Youth now combines the greatest hair helps in existence. I have never seen anything else which brought comparable results.

Now I have placed it in every drug store, on every toilet counter. All who desire may obtain it. The name is Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth. It will amaze and delight you. I authorize every dealer to return the price to anyone who claims the slightest disappointment.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send with it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

flight for money spent by them out of their own pockets during the trip, the local campaign to raise a $7,500 fund for the benefit of the flyers is being continued. Approximately $532 has been raised.

The funds will be given to the airmen as a testimonial from the city. The aim of the officials is to present the gift to the world flyers when they return for the International Air Races in October.

ROTARY CLINIC

Four crippled children were examined at the Rotary Club clinic in the Court House, Friday morning.

Dr. James Walker of Dayton assisted by Dr. C. G. McPherson of this city, had charge of the clinic. Miss Jennie Moffett, Social Service League nurse and Miss Helen Evers, of the Red Cross, assisted the physicians.

PRESIDENT MORGAN ON WESTERN TRIP; NOTES OF ANTIOCH

(By Wardle Press Service)
Yellow Springs, O., Sept. 19.—President Arthur E. Morgan of Antioch College is now on a trip through the west, planning to return in time for the change of divisions at the college. After spending about a week at Pueblo, Colorado in the interests of his conservancy project there, he will speak at several places in California regarding Antioch, upon the invitation of friends of the college.

Marion W. Richardson, a '23 graduate of Antioch, is now head of the mathematics department at East High School, Green Bay, Wis.

Rev. George W. Arlman, pastor of High Street M. E. Church, Springfield, is to be the speaker at vesper services Sunday September 21, at 7:00 p.m. The public is invited.

Miss Elizabeth Clarke, Antioch '23, of Berkeley, Cal., on Sept. 11, broadcast from station KPO San Francisco a talk on Antioch in the interests of the student drive.

Joseph P. Day, Jr., a former Antioch student now of New York City, and Miss Frances Cary were married last month at Waltham, Mass.

Antioch College will close for the year at Dayton, October 4, so that the students and faculty may have the opportunity to see the final events.

"Te Anchorage," the college tea room, is now open again under new management. Daniel J. Davitt of Westmeath, Ireland, having charge for "A" Division.

Miss Josephine Richards, Denver, Colo., is dietitian this year for the college dining hall, while Umar M. Albin, Seneca, Kan., is the business manager. At one evening meal recently, 295 students were handled at the cafeteria counter. This is the largest number ever fed in the dining room at one meal.

Henry Harap, who was director last year of the Antioch School (visited the college Sunday. Mr. Harap is now teaching principles of education at the Cleveland School of Education, an institution maintained by the Cleveland Board of Education for the special benefit of teachers.

The men of Antioch are now playing off a tennis tournament on the new concrete courts. The finals will be played near the end of the division period.

Temporary appointments have been made to fill vacancies in student government until the regular election at the end of the period. Miss Naomi Brackett, Bristol, Conn., and Miss Dorothy Boyd, Fort Smith, Ark., have become members of the Women's Conference and Miss Boyd has been chosen chairman. Richard Maffet, Ashland, O., and Densil Pyle, Troy, O., fill vacancies on the Men's Conference. Miss Marjorie Mack, Cincinnati, is secretary and J. M. Montgomery, Denver, Colo., Junior Representative on the Student Council.

A LITTLE OPPORTUNITY ALL FORLORN

It existed in an out-of-the-way place where no one ever passed. As far as the world was concerned, it might just as well never have been. Silent, sad and solitary it remained in seclusion.

It was like the violet which is born to blush unseen and waste its fragrance on the air.

Until quite by chance it was discovered by a wanderer who recognized it and appreciated its possibilities. So he brought it to the Classified Section and put it there everybody could see it. And then-what a difference! Scores of people literally fell all over themselves in their eagerness to make it their very own. That's a way with opportunities-and that's a way with the Classified Ads.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Luxury of Love by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

MARY HAYWARD, though she is in love with BRUCE GILLIAN, has married SIR NIGEL CAVENTISH, during a misunderstanding with Bruce. She has told Nigel that she does not love him, but he has urged that she marry him anyway, and his suit is furthered by an old friend of Mary's, VERA ATWOOD, who realizes what although Mary is a famous beauty, her poverty is going to make her life increasingly difficult.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT XXVII—A STRANGE REUNION.

DURING all the bustle of landing Mary caught sight once more of the woman who had spoken to her on shipboard with such eventful results. Headless of the crowd, she made her way to the woman's side.

"Oh, please, may I thank you for coming to me that day?" she exclaimed, laying her hand impulsively on the other's arm.

"I've been trying since then to understand the things you said to me, and I've been reading the Bible."

"I'm so glad. You'll find the help you need, if you're just willing to accept it, my dear."

"But won't you give me your name before you go?" asked Mary, imploringly. "If I only knew who you are and where to reach you—I have such an ordeal ahead of me—"

The woman drew a card from her handbag. "You can reach me always in care of my bank—the address is there," she answered. "And if ever I can help you I'll be glad to do so."

VIOLET DARE

When she had gone Mary stood for a moment looking at the card. "Mrs. Boyd Chalmers Mowbray," she read. The name was familiar—Boyd Chalmers—Boyd Chalmers—the name rang through her head, then was thrust aside as she suddenly found herself facing her husband.

Nigel had changed, even during the short time since their marriage. When she had known him in the States he had been a delightfully lazy sort of person, rather nonchalant in manner, inclined to let everyone else take the initiative, save in the one instance of his headlong affair with her. Now, as Sir Nigel, he had suddenly acquired an air of authority of dignity new to him.

He studied her almost appraisingly when they were finally alone.

"You're more beautiful than ever," he remarked. "Have a good crossing? I've arranged that we won't spend much time here; I've got things all straightened up, and of course we couldn't go out much here, anyway, being in mourning, so we'll head for the Continent. It'll be great at Lido now."

Mary had a sudden, stifling feeling of being caught in a trap. He was so sure of the future; how could she tell him that she wished to change it? After all, what a pretence! To ask him to release her at once—to have their marriage annulled and let her go—why, he was sure to refuse! She held out one hand involuntarily, as mentally she reached out for the peace that seemed to be slipping from her.

He stared at her in amazed silence.

enough there so that nobody'll care."

Mary nodded. Could she speak to him tonight? she asked herself. It would be better to tell him at once, of course; once they got started for Italy it would be so much harder to break away.

They dined in their rooms at the hotel, and Mary, more tired than she had supposed, went to her bedroom immediately afterward and put on a negligee. Nigel came to her almost at once.

"Thought I'd drop in and say good-night," he announced. "Two or three friends of mine are downstairs, and I'll just run down and have a nightcap with them."

"But, Nigel, there's something I've—something I must tell you," she protested.

"Oh, let's not begin discussing things at this hour," he urged. "Leave it till tomorrow morning, when we'll both be more in the mood."

"No, I must do it at once. Nigel, I want you to release me. Our marriage was a mistake, and I can't go on with it."

He stared at her in amazed silence. "Can't go on with it," he repeated at length. "In heaven's name why not?"

"Because I'm not in love with you, and I am in love with someone else, with Bruce Gillian."
